Lokesh Bhati, in charge of the local police station, said that all female relatives of the men who went to the wedding consumed the food, and thus became victims of food poisoning. All of them have been admitted to a district hospital situated in Mathura. Bhati further said that everyone's condition is still critical.

He added that they are waiting for the victims to regain their consciousness and tell the police what really happened.

Earlier in the year, close to 100 people fell ill after consuming food at a marriage feast in Odisha's Kendrapara.

As per the police, all of them suffered from food poisoning. Out of them, 12 were admitted to the Pattamundai sub divisional hospital. Most of them complained of similar symptoms, including vomiting, stomach pain and nausea.
